

Halvik Acquires SP Systems; a Small Business Alliant Prime Contract Holder

Vienna, VA, July 7, 2016 – Halvik, an 8(a) certified leading provider of Agile Full Software Lifecycle services for Federal Agencies, today announced the acquisition of SP Systems, an industry recognized science support provider, and as a result has become an Alliant Small Business prime contract holder.

Headquartered in Greenbelt, Maryland, and founded in 1999, SP Systems provides scientific research, engineering, data analysis, near real-time satellite data processing, algorithm development, and instrumentation to support knowledge advancement across the federal government. With a long history of proven success in supporting scientific programs across the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), SP System provides diverse set of capabilities and experiences to meet continually shifting science research needs.

“Halvik is committed to making the corporate investments to enhance our offerings and provide our customers with innovative technical solutions,” said Robert Tibbs, Vice President of Operations. “The acquisition of SP Systems and the Alliant Small Business contract helps expand our capabilities and clients to better meet the continued needs of the Federal market space. This acquisition provides a marriage of SP Systems’ science and scientific engineering experience to Halvik’s industry awarded software and IT delivery capabilities to provide a best of breed approach to engineering and IT services.”

The Alliant Small Business Government wide Acquisition Contract (GWAC) is a competitive multiple award, indefinite-delivery, indefinite-quantity (IDIQ) small business contract. Halvik has the knowledge, experience, and people required to deliver exceptional information technology services and solutions to help agencies purchasing under the Alliant small business contract.

Halvik will be able to continue to provide small business support and services to the Alliant Small Business contract.
